Central Gulf Coast Archaeological Society, Inc.

A chapter of the Florida Anthropological Society

Who we are

The Central Gulf Coast Archaeological Society (CGCAS) is an association of amateur and professional archaeologists and concerned citizens dedicated to studying and preserving Florida's great cultural heritage.

CGCAS is a state-chartered, nonprofit organization and a chapter of the FLORIDA ANTHROPOLOGICAL SOCIETY (FAS). All contributions are tax deductible.

Membership is for a calendar year. For new members who join between September and December, membership is honored through the next calendar year.

What we do

CGCAS is active in the greater Tampa Bay area. At our monthly meetings, we provide guest speakers who discuss a variety of topics in archaeology. Meetings are held at the Weedon Island Preserve Cultural and Natural History Center, 1800 Weedon Drive NE, St. Petersburg, FL 33702.

While all of our meetings are open to the general public, CGCAS members get access to other benefits such as:

- Archaeological field and lab work
- Field trips and other group outings
- Newsletters

Membership

Membership is open to anyone with a sincere interest in the cultural heritage of Florida and a dedication to understanding, preserving and sharing that heritage.

Amateurs, professionals and concerned citizens are all welcome as members. Visit our website at www.cgcas.org for information on joining. Membership is from January to January*.

Membership Dues
